

RUSSIA TRYING TO ENLIST VOLUNTEERS

Abolition of Such Contingents Now Seen to Have Been Mistake.

GEN. DEITRICH'S ACTIVE
Priests in All the Churches Sound Fervent Call for Recruits.

Special Cable Despatch to THE SUN from the London Times Service.
Copyright, 1919, all rights reserved.
Omsk, Aug. 24.—A cry for volunteers sounds on all sides. The abolition of volunteer contingents by the predecessors of Gen. Deitrich was not the least of the blunders. The old idea of mass mobilization, placing quantity before quality, which was one of the main causes of the triumph of Bolshevism in Russia, has been blindly reapplied to Siberia with disastrous consequences.
To compel a radical change in methods Gen. Deitrich has done everything to foster a new spirit in the volunteers who will in future play a predominating part in the army.
Village concerts and town populations hitherto virtually immune from active service must respond largely to the call to arms, otherwise the hopes and plans of creating a new army that can relieve and liberate Russia next year in company with the stanch volunteer forces serving with Gen. Denikin are likely to be disappointed.
Without disclosing military secrets, it is permissible to state that indications are presently favorable to one of the most interesting innovations. It is the formation of so-called fraternities of the cross, which are composed of volunteers pledged to lead blameless lives, setting an example of discipline and self-sacrifice.
Friday at the festival of the Transfiguration, when all the churches were crowded with worshippers, priests and laymen addressed fervent appeals to the congregations to join the colors and don the Cross as a badge of service.

SAYS PEOPLE FEAR ADMIRAL KOLCHAK
Dr. Martiny, Danish Traveller, Describes Conditions.

COPENHAGEN, Aug. 23.—"Unless something is done to remove the fear and prejudice with which they are now regarded, even by the bourgeois, there is little chance for the ultimate success of Admiral Kolchak and Gen. Denikin against the Russian Bolsheviks," said Dr. Canilo Martiny, who has arrived here from Russia after a four years' stay there as the head of the Danish Red Cross, today.
"The bourgeois desire allied intervention. The British withdrawal from north Russia means eventual German domination there, especially since Germany has lost her overseas colonies and the only road left her is eastward."
Commenting on his dealings with the heads of the Soviet Government, Dr. Martiny said:
"Recognizing the terrible failure of their policy, Nicolai Lenin and his associates decided to abandon their terrorist methods and their policy for immediate socialization, and for the first time this year a moderate programme was outlined out. Terror ceased. 'We must make peace,' they said, and reorganize the country later and seek to put communism in force."
"While determined to keep the power in the hands of the Bolsheviks, the policy at home was as far as possible to secure the cooperation of other Russian forces and cease hostilities on all fronts on the condition that their present territory be left them, while they in turn agreed to cease agitation in other countries."

But the Moderates' policy failed to secure the longed for peace. It was then that the Bolsheviks turned to Peter and Demetrius (two of the leading Red commissars) with their extreme policy, which is to make no peace until Europe and the world is Bolshevikized. A majority of the Soviets joined this movement, and for three months they have been the real Government, with only nominal power remaining in the hands of Lenin and the other people's commissars.
"The ascension of the extremists was marked by the capture of Odesa and the repulse of the forces threatening Petrograd and the advent of Soviet Hungary. The success against Kolchak has been largely due to the generalship of Kamenev, who was a Colonel in the days of Czarism. His policy having prevailed over the defensive Soviet policy and proved successful, all military power has passed into his hands."

UKRAINE UPRISING SPREADS.
Peasants Demand Independence From Bolshevism.

BERN, Aug. 24.—The Ukrainian mission here has received a message from Gen. Petlura, dated August 20, saying that the towns of Rovno, Dubno and Rzhynsk have been handed over by the Poles to the Ukrainians by arrangement.
The message adds that the peasants everywhere are rising on behalf of the independence of the Ukraine. All national forces are united on a democratic and anti-Bolshevik basis.
"We have excellent relations with the Entente, while our neighbors, particularly Rumania, are hostile," the message asserts.

UKRAINE TROOPS TAKE KIEV.
Gen. Petlura's Armies Approaching the Dnieper on Whole Line.

COPENHAGEN, Aug. 24.—A despatch received here from Breslau, in the Government of Silesia, says an airplane has reached there with advices from Kamenev-Podolsky to the effect that Gen. Petlura's Ukrainian troops have occupied Kiev, taken the whole of Podolia and large parts of Volhynia and the Government of Kiev.
The advices add that the Ukraine armies are approaching the Dnieper River along the entire line.

30,000 RUSSIANS IN PERIL.
Peace Council Discusses Plans to Prevent Massacre by Reds.

PARIS, Aug. 24.—The Peace Conference recently has been discussing plans for the protection of the 30,000 anti-Bolshevik Russians in Archangel and along the northern coast of Russia after the departure of the British forces, which are rapidly moving out.
This, however, no plan has been agreed upon, and it is believed that the allied forces against the Bolsheviks apparently are doomed to massacre. The commander of the Archangel

WALES IS CHEERED ON WAY TO TORONTO

Prince Calls Himself True Canadian on Departing From Quebec.

THREE RIVERS, Que., Aug. 24.—The Prince of Wales reached here at 6:25 this afternoon, and five minutes later left on his special train for Toronto.
He came by motor from Quebec, escorted by province, city and railroad officials, who introduced him to the big Pullmans, which are to be his home for the next two months on his tour through western Canada.
To-morrow morning at 10 o'clock he is due to arrive in the Ontario capital and will go at once to the Parliament buildings, where his Toronto programme will begin with an official reception in his honor.

Hundreds of citizens cheered the Prince as his train drew out of the station for the West, and the tooting of automobile horns and bells added to the din of the royal goodbye.
Before leaving the city of Quebec the Prince despatched a letter in French to the Lieutenant-Governor, expressing his appreciation of the welcome given him on his arrival and extended throughout his visit there.

"My service in France throughout the war and my close association with the splendid troops of the Dominion have given me two possessions which I treasure very much," he wrote. "The first of these possessions is so close an acquaintance with my brother officers and men from overseas that I feel I do not come to them as a stranger, but as one of themselves. The second is a real and I hope lasting insight into the heroism of mind and spirit of the French people, from whom the people of Quebec are so largely and directly sprung. I feel that in virtue of these two possessions I come among you as a true Canadian, equally in touch with both of the great races which have colonized the vast territories of the Dominion and built upon it the splendid Canadian nation of today."

Bertherville was the last town in the Province of Quebec that saw the Prince to-day. He went to the rear platform of his train and there delivered a short speech in French. The town was decorated in his honor and he received an enthusiastic greeting.

BOSTON GIRL FOUND PRINCE GOOD DANCER

Special Despatch to THE SUN.
BOSTON, Aug. 24.—The Prince of Wales is not bashful when he dances. A few months ago wide attention was given the story brought to this country by an American girl who danced with the Prince in London, to the effect that he was "the most bashful young man she ever saw."

Miss Helen Drury of Boston, the first unmarried girl to dance with the Prince of Wales after his arrival in Canada, says the story is "emphatically untrue."
Miss Drury danced with the heir to the British throne at the informal reception given to the Prince at the Government House in Halifax. Hitherto he had confined his dancing to married ladies. Miss Drury is a sister to Lady Beaverbrook of England.
"Did I find him awkward?" said Miss Drury, repeating the question put to her. "I did not; he is one of the most charming men I ever met and a perfect dancer. And he was not shy, as has been asserted. He was perfectly at ease and talked quite a bit as he danced."

Judet Faces Tension Inquiry.
PARIS, Aug. 24.—Orders have been issued for an examination of Ernest Judet, former director of L'Esclapart, who is accused of having had dealings with the enemy in the purchase or founding of French newspapers with German capital.

CREW OF AIRPLANE GOLIATH IS SAFE

Paris Learns More Details of Rescue Near Dakar.

By the Associated Press.
PARIS, Aug. 24.—Further details were received by the Ministry of the Colonies concerning the long missing airplane Goliath, which was found yesterday. During the flight from Mogador, Morocco, toward Dakar, French West Africa, the machine developed propeller trouble and was forced to land near the village of Koufra, in the Mauritanian region, 130 miles north of St. Louis. The propeller previously had been the cause of trouble on the flight from Casablanca to Mogador where it was repaired.
The district in the vicinity of Koufra is thinly populated, and it is not known as yet by whom the Goliath was found.

It is believed, however, that one of the flying columns sent out to search for the missing craft discovered its whereabouts. St. Louis is about 160 miles north of Dakar, and therefore the Goliath was about 230 miles from her destination when forced to land. The eight persons aboard the airplane are safe.

U. S. AFTER "WILDCAT" STOCKS
Federal Trade Board Starts Inquiry in Texas Oil Fields.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 24.—Investigations of some fifty complaints of the sale of "wildcat" oil stocks in the Texas oil fields have been started by the Federal Trade Commission.
The commission announced today that it had sent two of its investigators into the region with instructions to make a searching inquiry into cases, complaints of which were lodged with the commission by persons interested in the legitimate development of the field.
